15:21:32 From George Hubert to Everyone:

Hi. I found your group through my effort to educate myself about the Continuum of Care. I'm an architect working on design of a homeless shelter project for the County of Sacramento's Safe Stay project. Please reach out if you would like to know more about Safe Stay or if you can help connect our group to people with lived experience of homelessness who can help us (ghubert@dlrgroup.com). Thanks!

15:33:34 From George Hubert to Everyone:

Is there bandwidth and time for new additional projects? Or is the project list closed?

15:34:41 From Jesse SSF, CoC Analyst to Everyone:

Can you explain more what you mean by new projects?

15:36:58 From Ciarra Johnson (she/her) to Everyone:

George, are you asking if there are new project ideas being accepted?

15:42:00 From Jesse SSF, CoC Analyst to Everyone:

Could this be a cool way to expand PNI - a new position specific to Ed?

15:42:38 From Shelly Hubertus to Everyone:

I think it's a natural fit - we've already done some intention in that direction but having a devoted position would make a big difference!

Replying to "George, are you aski..."

New project ideas are always great!

15:47:47 From George Hubert to Everyone:

Is the project list the same as the coordinated community plan? If not, what's the difference between them?

15:48:35 From piper to Everyone:

The project list will be included in the Community Plan, but the plan will also include strategies and action steps for our system as a whole that are not necessarily a "project"

15:48:41 From Jesse SSF, CoC Analyst to Everyone:

CCP is the large community plan to prevent and end youth homelessness. We will use the CCP to help inform the RFP

15:49:50 From Grace Loescher (She/They) to Everyone:

LOVE the point of less transitions and less moves and making space for more stable, long-term environments to heal and build community.

I have to step away - I will be right back.

15:58:28 From Jeff - Ballmer Group (he/him/his) to Everyone:

Have to jump off. As a complete newcomer to this work, it is interesting to me how much "navigators" come up in what most of the group recommend. It is just a clear signal the system is designed so poorly that people need help to figure out how to just get access to what they need. Thanks for letting me listen in!!

16:11:38 From Waking the Village to Everyone:

Our young parents were also dreaming of something like a job corps for parenting youth. They have to leave Job Corps once kids are born.

16:12:50 From George Hubert to Everyone:

Check out <https://outsidetheframe.org/>. OTF is a documentary film training program for TAY experiencing homelessness. They are located in Portland. Nili Yosha is the director. OTF empowers youth to tell their stories and use art for healing themselves. Replicating OTF in Sacramento would be a great thing.

16:15:36 From Waking the Village to Everyone:

George, make sure you check out Sac's own Creation District!

16:26:53 From Grace Loescher (She/They) to Everyone:

Heard this idea echo'd so much in our YAB meetings! Youth autonomy to choose their #1 area of focus while engaged in a program.

16:27:08 From Ciarra Johnson (she/her) to Everyone:

Reacted to "Heard this idea echo..." with ❤️

16:29:43 From Shelly Hubertus to Everyone:

The last few points from providers:

1) Culturally responsive services: multiple language offerings/partnerships, recognizing different holiday traditions, training, etc.

2) Professional development offerings for staff: mentorship, adequate pay, certifications/education

Provide aftercare supports (possibly peer lead)

3) Announcement for RFP and community plan should be shared broadly with providers
